

1) Choose your social circle

Let colleagues, family and friends know about the sweepstake to increase the numbers taking part and make it competitive. Take the sheet into the office and pin it to the notice board or pass it around. You could even post it on your social media and let people comment their choice of time below.

2 Choose the prize

Pick a prize and write it on the sheet. The choice is yours. The prizes could be anything from a bottle of bubbly, a voucher, or even a donation of time (personal assistant for the day).

3 Set the price

You want to get as many people picking a time as possible to help you with your fundraising and to add to the competitive spirit. Obviously the higher the price the more you will raise, however if you are only going to have a few people playing, lower the price and get them to pick more than one time!

4 Gather a cheer squad

Encourage everyone who has taken part to cheer you along on the day. Look out for us, we might have a cheer point at your event.

5 The finish line

Once you have finished, announce your official time and award the lucky winner!
